……

ズザザ…

An external fairing that can absorb and displace the shock from the impact of high caliber bullets. With that...

You could even call it a two-wheeled tank. It is loaded with defensive power.

Bucephalus. That vehicle's frame is comprised of the newest light alloys, Liquidmetal, carbon fiber, ceramics and so on.

With that, I'll easily destroy you.

Impossible!!

NOISY!!

I'LL MAKE YOU CRY SOON, YOU MONSTER!

Shit..!
He caused it to accidentally use its hidden arsenal!!

ARMOUR DURABILITY: 34% DOWN. MOBILITY REMAINS UNHINDERED.

FIRING FLUID: REMAINING 100 ML EXHAUSTED. FRONTAL FAIRING: DAMAGED.

Even with that totally filled-of-bullshit body,

a person who could fare one-on-one with this Bucephalus actually existed?!

That's as far

I'd even become a demon if it means protecting Missy's "heart".

If you intend on breaking that promise, I'll chop off your arms, one-by-one.

I sympathize with your feelings, however, we must bear with it for now.

A promise to not kill while Missy and the others are in the middle of fighting, hm?

Great, great!

Well then, sorry for that!

AA

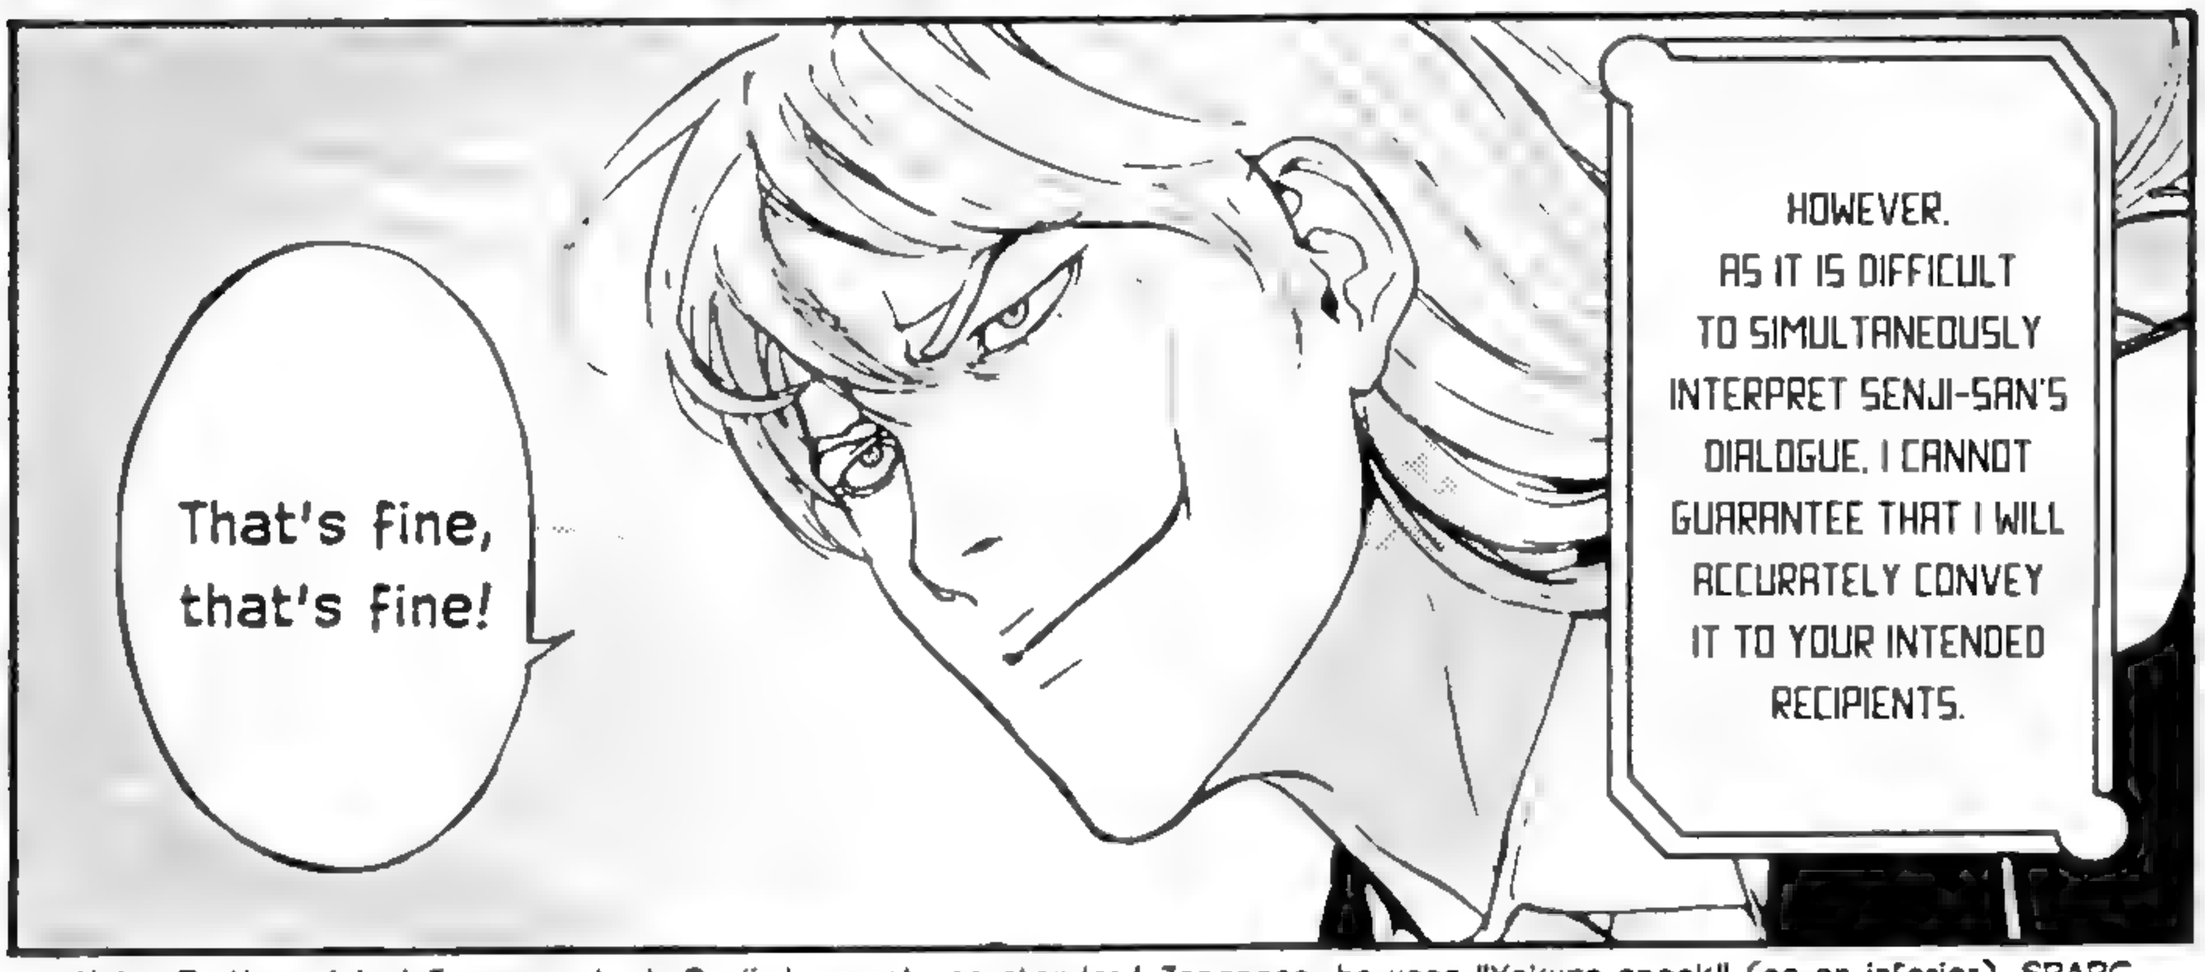
Let us mutually and sincerely work together!

I wish to report to SPARC-san and Missy.

UNDER-STOOD.

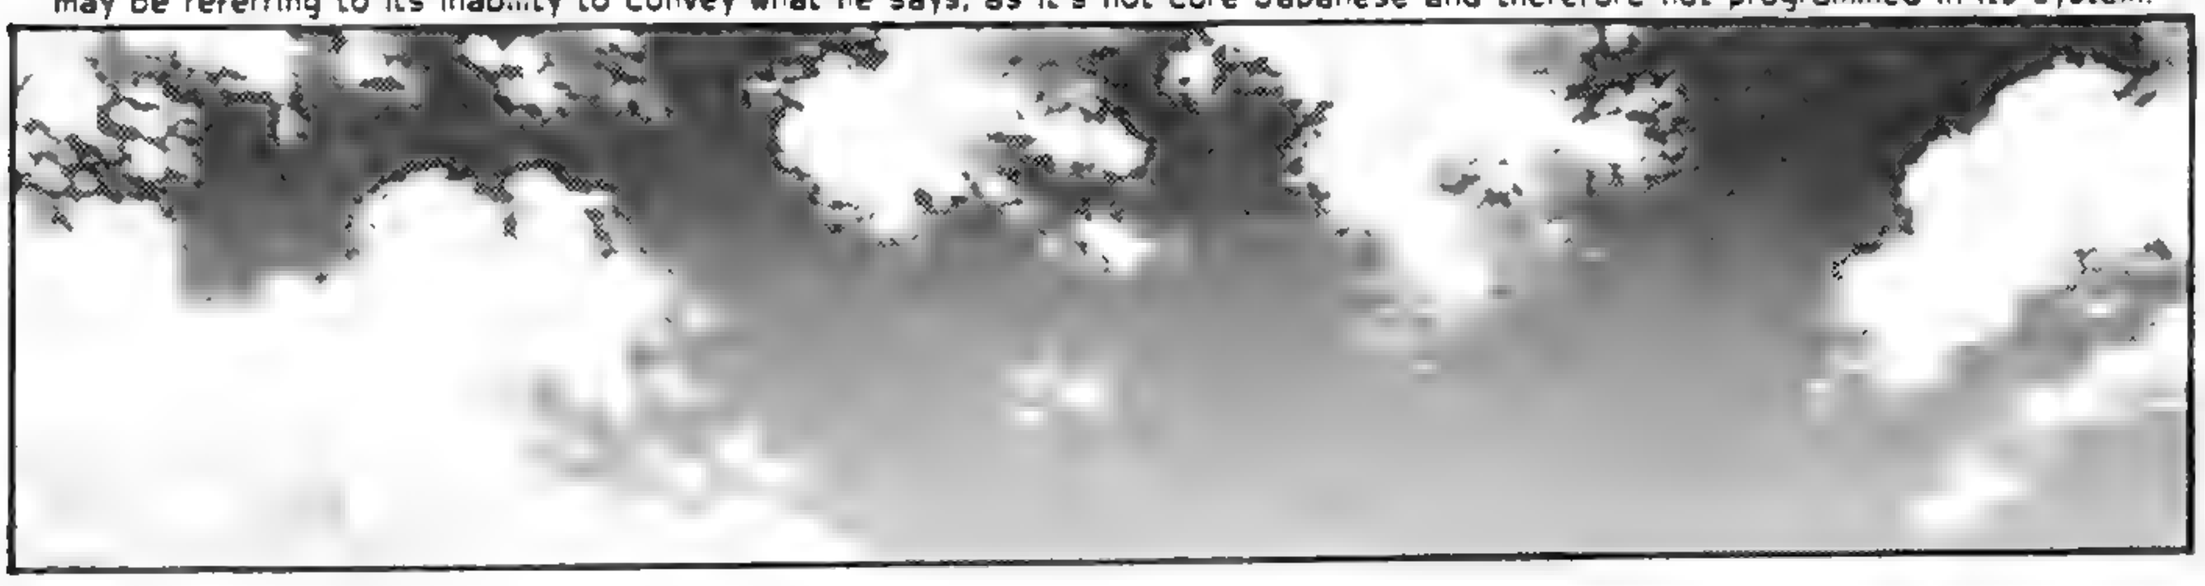
...Is he a ninja?

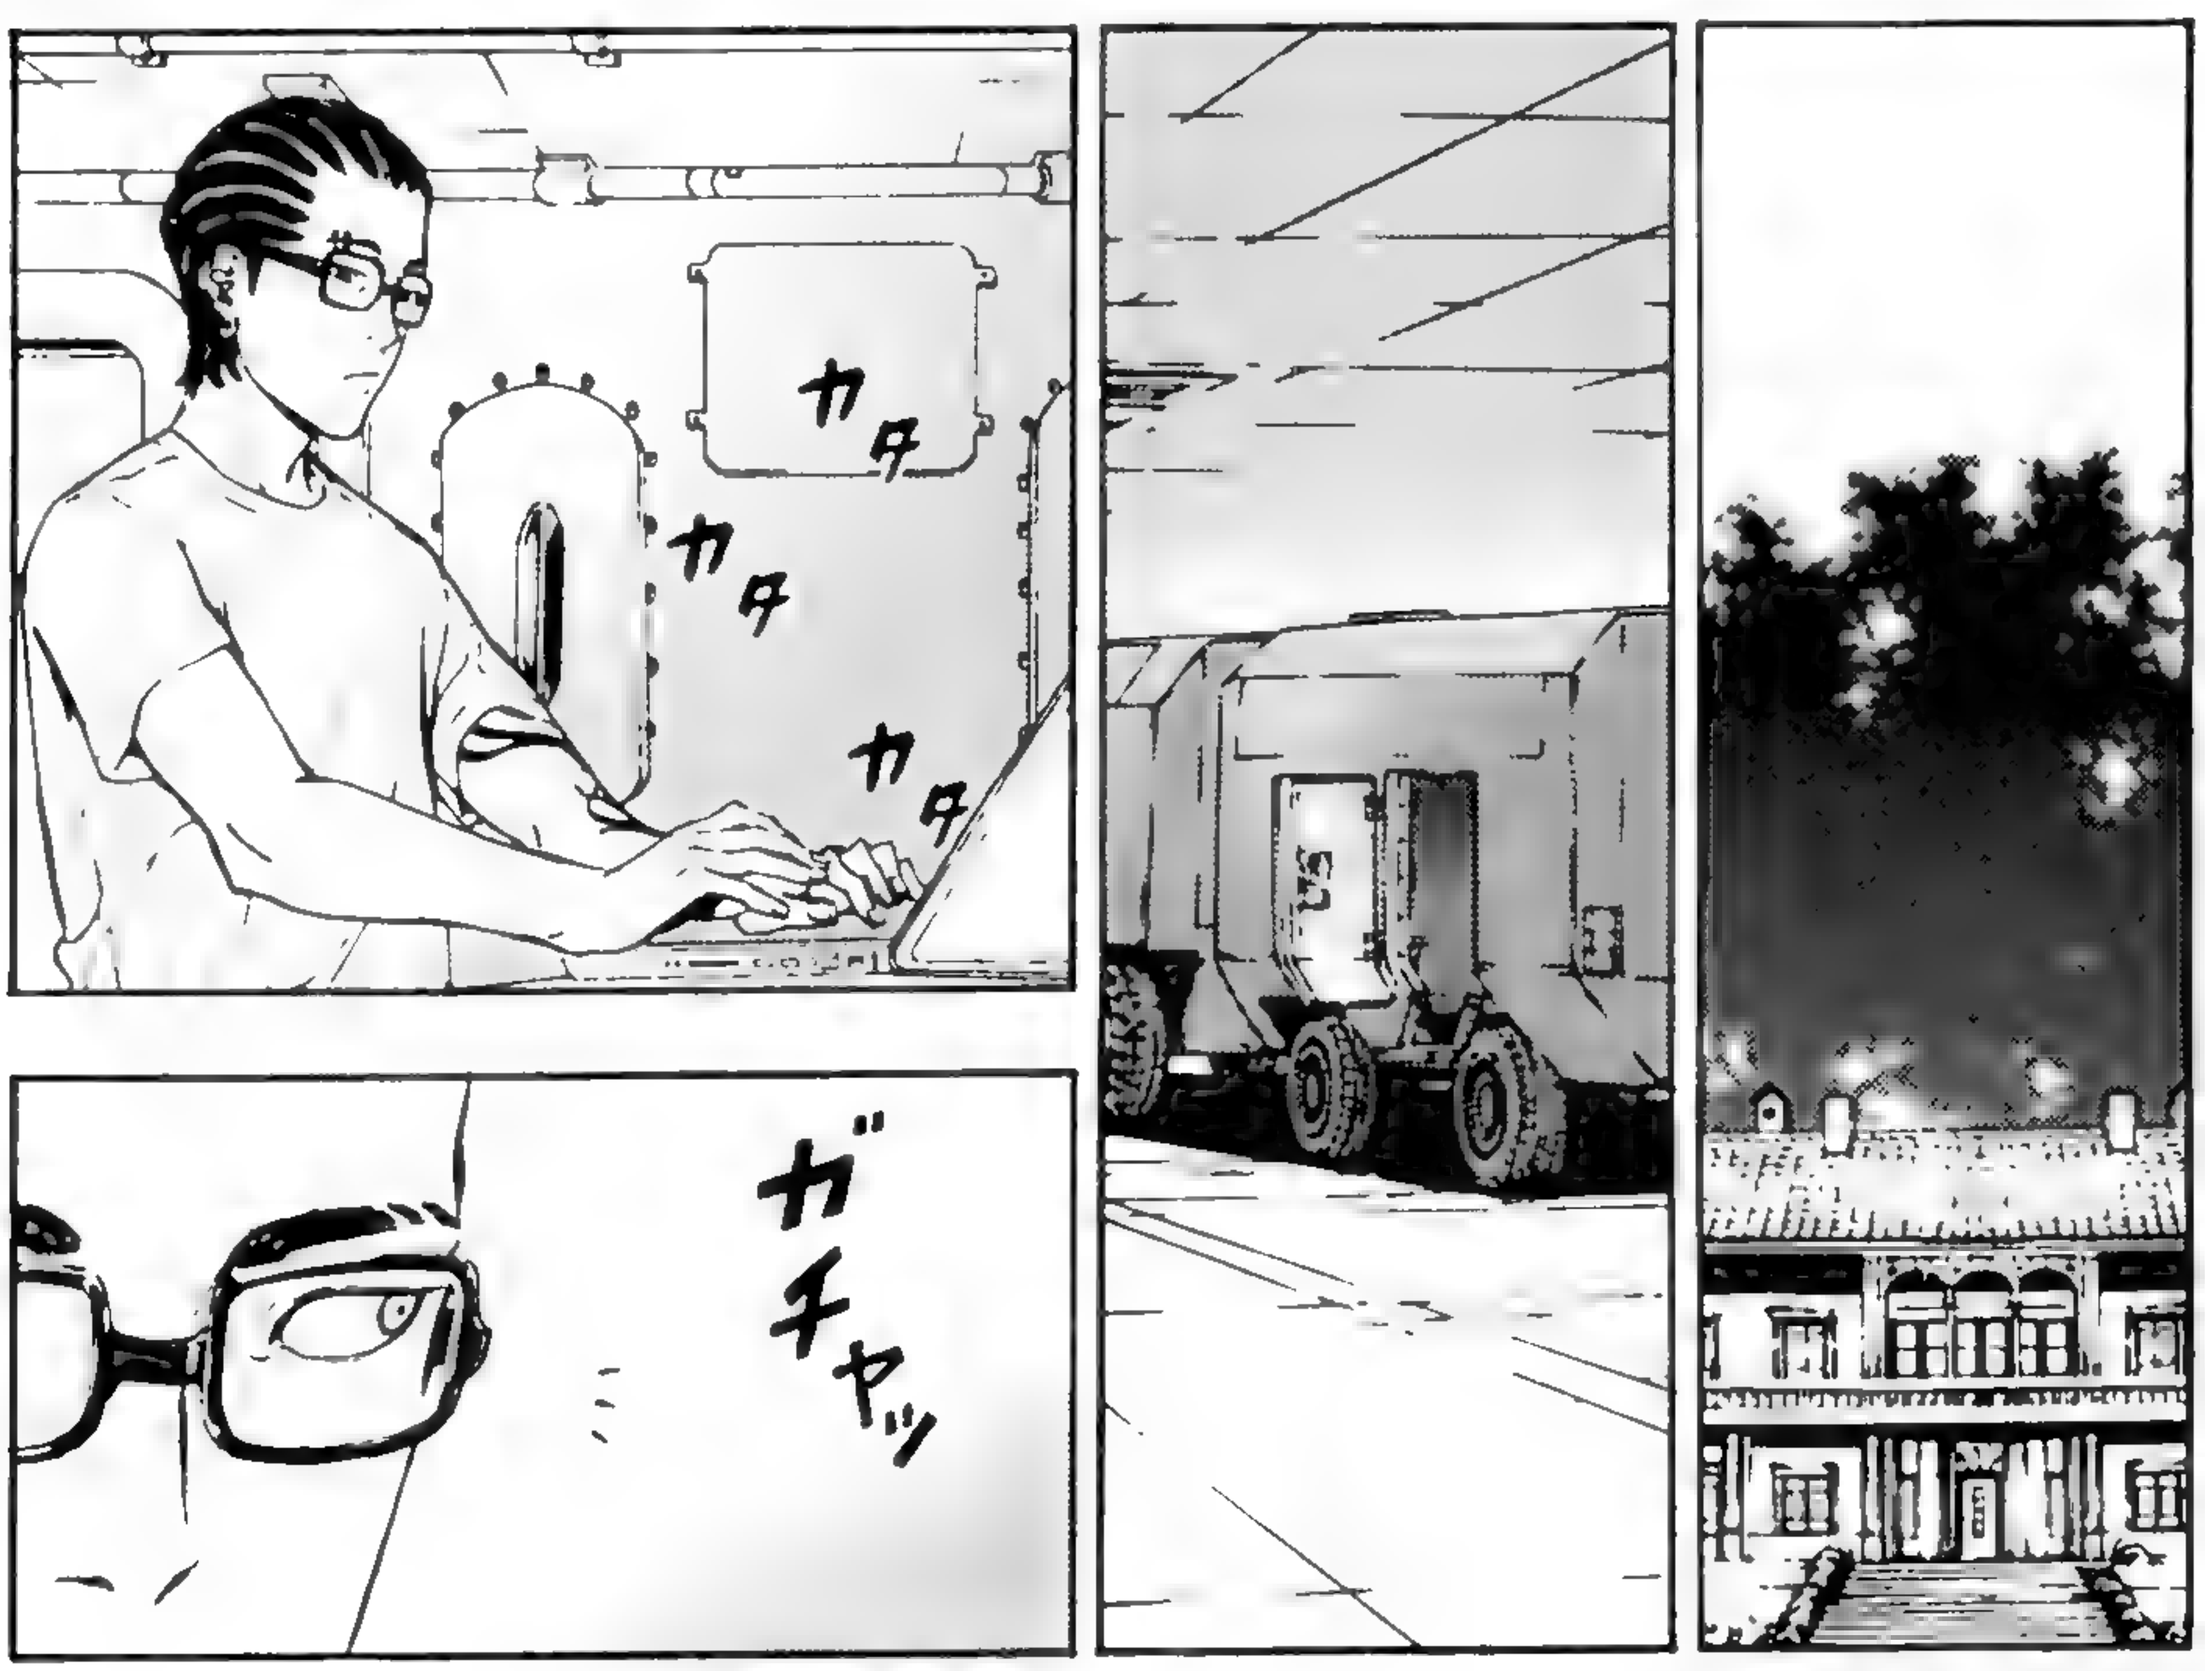
Nah, I hear he's just some Yakuza guy.



That's fine, that's fine!
HOWEVER.
AS IT IS DIFFICULT TO SIMULTANEOUSLY INTERPRET SENJI-SAN'S DIALOGUE, I CANNOT GUARANTEE THAT I WILL ACCURATELY CONVEY IT TO YOUR INTENDED RECIPIENTS.

Note: In the original Japanese text, Senji does not use standard Japanese; he uses "Yakuza speak" (as an inferior). SPARC may be referring to its inability to convey what he says, as it's not core Japanese and therefore not programmed in its system.





...Ah, okay...

Don't mind me, continue on.

...Huh...

...It's a lifesaver for a person like you to be A genius who brought on could replace with us.... you... Probably wouldn't come to a place like this.

Haven't decided.

Huhh ..???

So then, after this, how will our plan turn out?

For the plan, if we do not fluidly adjust it while confirming the ongoing state of affairs, it will be seen through, and we will soon fail.

It has not been decided. Actually, it cannot be decided.

Our adversary this time isn't an ordinary person.

Yes. He's that kind of adversary. A man like Zashid Turus, that is.

It's not that bad.

At the moment, probably below 10%.

Wha-

O-Our plan's success rate is...

Wouldn't it be fine if we could just spark a conflict resulting in the head of the country fighting one-on-one against Mamoru?

the issue of Zashid's murder itself is extraordinarily difficult.

Say, if you think about Hijikata Mamoru's absurd demands,

It's specifically because of that that it is difficult. For this plan, it's best to say that if Hijikata Mamoru were to request a duel with Zashid, that could very well become the most troublesome.

In a one-on-one, the probability of defeating him is no more than 10%.

Wrong.

After another three months, Zashid will act.

However, our time has also ran out.

...That...

Freely using our intel network as much as possible, and collecting detailed personal data on Zashid. Frankly, I wanted to take more time devising the plan during the latter half of the year.

Targeting Tooyama Haruka, he is slated to appear there.

It's been decided that Zashid will visit Japan.

The one thing Zashid is distressed about is the lack of a successor.

Okay, but why does that involve Haruka???

You could say he's already reached the limitation of his species.

Even though he had sons with dozens of women, one who distinctly inherited a fighting strength and intellect that could perfectly match his did not appear.

Eh..?

Um... I do not understand what you mean.

"If I'm the pinnacle of mankind, no-one but I can become the successor."

From that, I assume he realized it.

The kidnapping of people and the insemnation of women, and the marketing and selling of them takes too much time.

It's already approaching the next era.

The TPC's human production facility being constructed in Duhana is not simply just for the sake of earning profit.

Correct.

It can't be?!

The TPC's next step is using the capital previously invested in them to research a cloning technique.

Cloning?!

T-There's no way society would approve of that sort of thing!

If they are successful in the disputed country of Duhana, due to non-conformity to international law, they will not be breaking any laws.

An underground organization that mass markets them can publicly begin their business.

No. The news that spreads to the public would be "The research of a brand new technique" and "Investment from a well-known corporation".

So, the establishment of the facility, the circulation of capital, and any questionable intel becomes entirely as if they had never existed.

Then, Zashid's goal is...

In addition to the fact that there are tons of people who exist on Earth that desire a substitute, that kind of news is covered up so people turn a blind-eye to it.

Right.

It's for that reason that he joined with them.

Using the TPC's technique and producing an offshoot of himself, it will become Duhana's true successor.

And, one more thing.

This, as far as you two are concerned, will become an extremely repulsive plan.

Somehow, cutting people down ain't just Hijikata's specialty, you know.

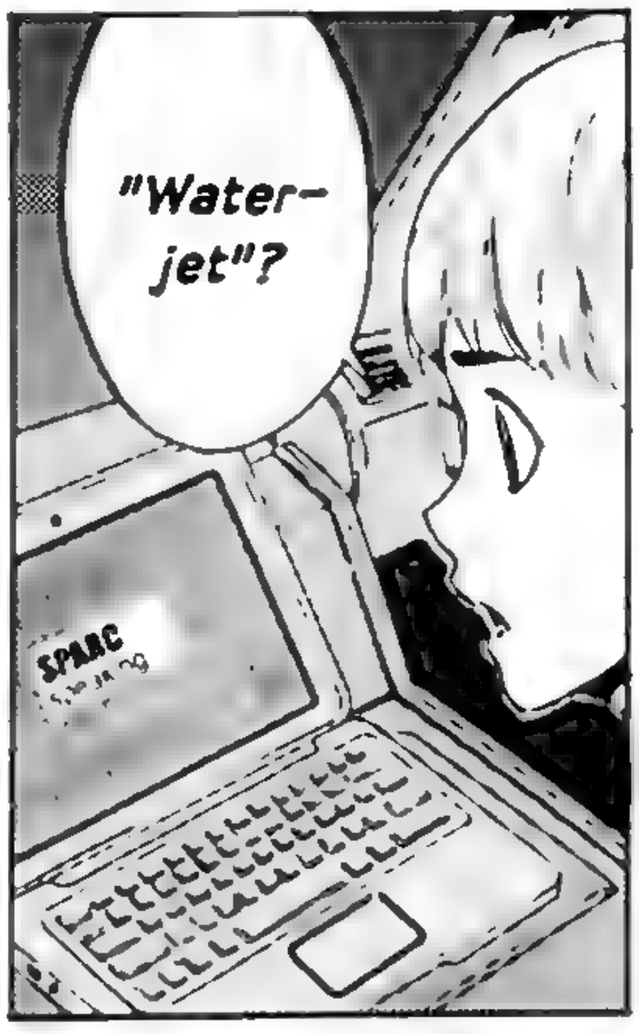
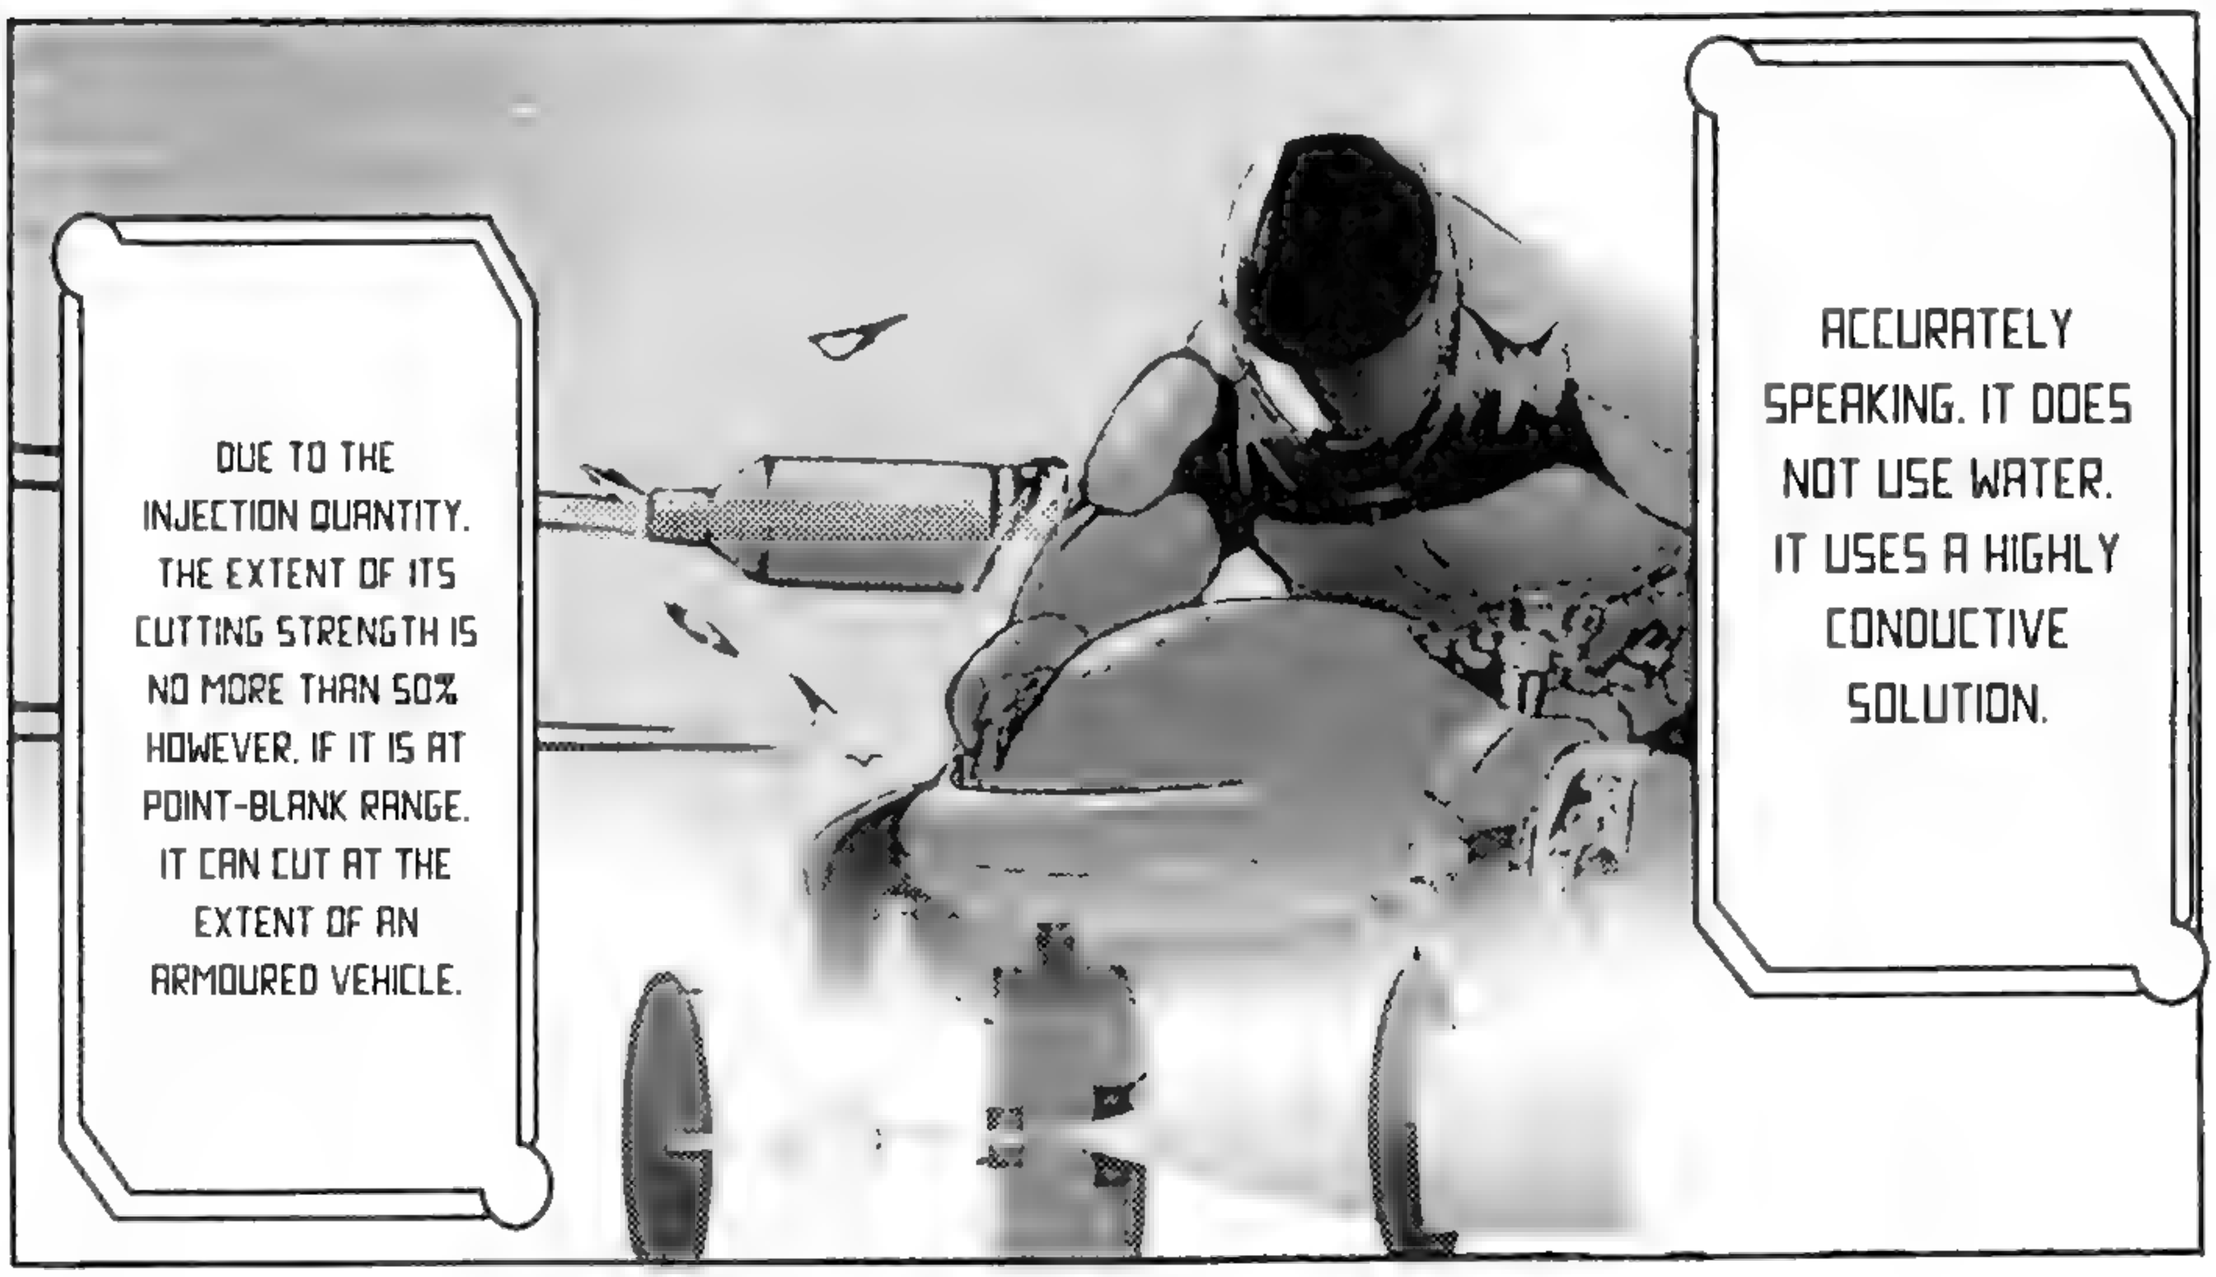
PERHAPS IT'S EASIER TO UNDERSTAND IF I WERE TO CALL IT BY ITS ACTUAL NAME: "WATER JET CUTTER".



"Water-jet"?



DUE TO THE INJECTION QUANTITY. THE EXTENT OF ITS CUTTING STRENGTH IS NO MORE THAN 50% HOWEVER. IF IT IS AT POINT-BLANK RANGE. IT CAN CUT AT THE EXTENT OF AN ARMOURED VEHICLE.
ACCURATELY SPEAKING. IT DOES NOT USE WATER. IT USES A HIGHLY CONDUCTIVE SOLUTION.

IN ADDITION, ALTHOUGH THERE ARE FIRING NOZZLES ON BOTH THE FRONT AND BACK PORTIONS, IF THEY FIRE THE SAME SOLUTION UNDER LOW PRESSURE AND TRANSFER A HIGH-VOLTAGE CURRENT ON IT, THEY CAN EVEN BE USED TO NULLIFY A TARGET.

DAI, JUST NOW, IN MIDAIR, EVEN MANAGED TO PUT THE CORRECTION OF HIS POSTURE TO USE.

However, this guy's the type who totally forced me to use a weapon meant to be used against fighting vehicles.

NIUNA
DUHANA
It seems the force that assaulted the base situated northwest in Niuna has been spotted!
Moreover, there is also news that the one responsible for the area, Taos Turus, was restrained by that force during their escape!
.....
I haven't ordered them to perform such flashy actions.
We're still in the preparation stage, you know.
Just now, the ones who did it weren't the Black Unit going all out, right?
This is surprising.
To think that a group besides ourselves capable of that degree of combative ability existed within the boundaries of Duhana.

In the report, there appears to be news of anti-government guerrilla warfare and unidentifiable mixed forces, however,

What.. do we do?

Nothing at all.

if this also ends up being Edge's doing, there would be no choice except to utilize it to spread the disorder within the country, you know.

...By "mixed forces"...

...No way...
...You mean...

...Erm..?

What's up?!

Just what is it? Somehow, it worries me...

And... This is about what you mentioned just now, but,

Zashid's one other horrifying motive is... About that...

if we're talking the abilities of the Elements Network, it's certainly possible.

...Mmm... As a possibility, that cannot be disregarded, however,

Accident, heh. I lost track being focused on how things would turn out! For you, it's a pretty big deal.

Ohh..! I must apologize.

Ah–

"I want to introduce a clairvoyant's qualities into my genes."

Alongside Zashid Turus scheming to make his own offshoot his successor, he also seeks even stronger genes.

Consequently, he has always thought this:

...AH... AHH..?!

Not at all! This thinking is 99% not a mistake.

No way?! That..!

For Zashid, no matter what measures he has to use, he wants to include Tooyama Haruka's genes into his own family...

That is, he is planning to have his own offspring bred with Tooyama Haruka as the host.

However, not only did that fall apart, it appears Zashid decided he will now soon appear in Japan.

Ignoring Edge, whom he could kill at any time, is evidence in itself.

If he could've brought Tooyama Haruka to Zashid's doorstep, his disgrace would've been overlooked.

H-He... He should be able to at least to protect her or something!

But, he's super strong, you know!!

And Hijikata Mamoru using these strict measures this time is because he intends to destroy Zashid in these lands...

You would know, right?! Do you really lack that much faith in him?!

...with a surprise attack before a war is sparked in Japan. If he does not do that, there would be no possibility of us winning.

Certainly, Hijikata Mamoru's individual fighting strength stands out.

Suddenly, even "lacking faith" isn't an impossibility.

Being viewed by the world, as an individual, you could even say he's max level.

Simply from rejecting Trump's challenge and defeating Zelm. And, me also.

Unmatched even by Jesus,

Limited to what I know, it's because the pinnacle of mankind is Zashid Turus himself.

Then, why?!

Yes. He's too strong.

...That bad..?

Also, if we were to consider the possibility that Tooyama Haruka may exist within the assault force earlier...

"Will I be content with my own clone?" Perhaps by harvesting Tooyama Haruka's genes as a clairvoyant, I can aim for an even higher position.

Since he's too strong, he cannot feel anything but discontent towards the issue of his successor.

That would... turn out awful...

...No way...
...That...

Yes. In light of this incident, if we assume she is here, I anticipate the state of affairs will be of the worst circumstance.

...Um... Mister...

Careful consideration is required.

From that too, from my hypothesis, we'll need to devise a countermeasure from here on as well.

I sincerely beg of you!

You and Mamoru's values differ from mine, however, that is my righteous way of living.

Even if you're uninformed of this, devote your entire might to the role you undertook.

For Hijikata Mamoru to defeat Zashid, I will, with all of my knowledge and capacity, fulfill this request.

Young Master?! And even N'Sinh!

...Father is here, I presume...

Also, see to it that the news of our return is not spread to the people outside.

Inform everyone strictly.

Yeah, but why did you suddenly return?

"We won't be returning for a while due to military service."...

That's classified military intel.

死がふたりを分かつまで

UNTIL DEATH DO US PART.

Right now, an unsettling atmosphere is spreading within Duhana.

It is because of Edge Turus's revolt, who appeared to be a potential successor for the next in line.

That's because you pressured me with such an absurd demand.

You can say it's only rational that we fully exploit a living being.

Hehe... You're a pretty awful guy yourself.

Using your former pupil as the culprit...

From what I know, in this underdeveloped country, let alone Internet, even TVs are limited to urban areas only, and the news is practically all done through the radio.

Currently, each Black Unit member is gone for homecoming.

Our first objective is changes in the state of affairs within present day Duhana.

For us, it's a pain to acquire intel, but, this is, for a dictatorship, truly favourable, as their side controls the intel.

No flexibility to interact is given to these citizens who have been forced into painstaking lifestyles, and even lateral communication virtually ceases to exist.

We're to strike that dictatorship's weakness.

However, that advantage, on the other hand, also becomes a weakness.

Of course.

That's easy for you to say, but hey...

Is that really possible?

...I see...

Speaking of humans, if 1,000 people act, 10,000 react. If 10,000 act, 100,000 react.

Regardless whether in a developed or developing nation, it is one facet of truth for us human beings.

Not only intelligence gathering, you also saw to it that the news of Edge's revolt was transmitted, correct?

For us, being low in numbers, we should especially exploit these citizens who carry resentment to turn them into fighting strength.

So, using resentment, you can pump even more air into it, like an inflated balloon getting even larger.

As discussed just now, there are also places which govern intel, yet do not transmit them.

Under this condition, the most influential approach would be word of mouth.

Precisely. Just as you said.

Problem is, we're taking actions that occur during that time.

And, the moment it's inflated to full, you pierce it with a needle...

That's possible, but only if we take the time for that to happen.

Since I can't expect the general public to just take the actions I hypothesize.

Regarding that, it's uncertain, but I will think about it.

Note: Zelm is speaking above.

This country is being distorted because of a single dictator.
The first push is of our own doing, but, the source of that is from Zashid Turus's rule and the citizens who have permitted it up until now.

...And that's why I didn't really want you to tag along.

No, it's something that always happens in the midst.

Y-Yeah, I guess...

...You're too just...

Yeah, I'm preparing.

Eh..?

You're preparing to hack the Network's satellite link, correct?

It's time, huh?

Igawa is a just person, so he would never permit such haughty actions.

Although Komura looks like that, his old-fashioned Yakuza mindset still remains.

Ragi possesses a sense of pride towards anything involving Black people.

The government treats it as though it is the fault of anti-government guerrilla warfare, and it appears they deal with this incident by not publicizing it to the general public.

Kill me.

Don't be stupid...

It's all thanks to this young lady.

You bastard, you have been protected by international law. Prepare for a fair trial.

You bastards have just angered my father this way.

That's because, by capturing me, our tribe's reputation is scarred!

It's inevitable even if I lived!

And, that time, I could have also just been shredded into pieces and left there.

You bastards no longer needed to hold off on me in particular.

No matter what it may be, even targeting actual childre–

...That's...

Even as his sons, we only see that man as a demon.

A foreigner, let alone being a little girl, likely won't understand that man's fury.

At 12-years-old, our gramps... No, as far as he himself cares, his true father.

At the end of a duel with Degas Turus, an influencial being as Galboa's army colonel at the time and the head of the Turus tribe, he strangled him to death, and personally became the tribe leader.

And, of the 100 POWs that were captured, they were simultaneously released in front of his subordinates...

At 15, he commanded his own personal force against the landing forces of a major power, and achieved total annihilation.

Afterwards, at 13, he left for the battle-field, and was awarded three medals.

...and he let them watch as he beat them all to death on his own.

It was for the sake of teaching a lesson to the major powers, and his might to those in the country.

And Zashid, who had become the hero of the country, aimed for the top as dictator.

And if it was for the sake of demonstrating that authority, he would never show any mercy, even to his own sons.

Do you understand?! That man's fury?!

Although every member of the tribe are veteran heroes, even with all of the sons combined, we can't get him to touch the ground with any body part besides the soles of his feet!!

Note: Basically, Taos is saying that even if he and the tribe's other sons were to gang up against Zashid, he would still be absolutely invulnerable against them. Basically, he wouldn't budge an inch.

Although I only get half of it, I can tell that he's a terrifying monster...

This giant's talking ...

You have requested for me?

Furthermore, I don't care whether Taos' life is taken into consideration.

As swiftly as possible, prioritize the suppression within the country first.

Sir!

Organize a pursuit force, and exterminate this mysterious force that devastated Taos' forces.

Our highest priority is the obstruction and annihilation of that guerrilla movement as quickly as possible.

As you command.

By some chance... Even if Edge existed within that force, that being's life need not be considered.

As well, put out a directive with the same conditions for that one other mysterious force calling itself as Edge's.

But, if you were to be stung by it, there is a potential case of death!

...to another room!

Just to be safe, please move to-

It's just a single stupid insect that got lost coming here from the Mediterranean Seaboard. It's not something worth fussing over.

Your Excellency!

A hornet just-

Wah-

It would be a laughing stock for the head of state to be chased away by a wasp.

...But-

……？

In this world, those who exist are none other than bloody idiots, every last one of them.
Fine already, go!

For this incident, I slightly sense the possibility that someone may be pulling the strings from behind...

And, be careful...

Sir?

Sir! Yes, Sir!

If, at that time, he chooses to oppose me, Zashid, then no matter what happens, make him repent.

Hm?

Tomorrow or so, maybe I should head to the nearby camp for a bit and do some preliminary inspections of the security measures there.

...I got the gist of what's going on at the moment, but... It'd be problematic for me to tell my buddies this without even offering a single gift, huh?

Guys..! Bad news!!

No mistake! Hurry and tell the village!

Is that true?!

It seems this White force is assaulting each house and taking the children away!

Whaaat?!

It seems there was child-snatching in the neighbourhood next to ours!

Whatever it is, there's a rumour going around about the surrounding villages being harmed as well!

What's wrong?! What happened?!

ガシャン

バタン

Pfft..! Leave this to a soldier like me!

Call out to everyone!

Have the old guys take the families and stow away in the jungle for two to three days.

This way, I may still be able to make a tale to give as a gift.

No mistake. that's a firefight.

And their opponents are smaller in number? No, judging from the gunfire, it's just one person, isn't it?

It's the sound of an AK-47.

The large group is using 5.56 x 45mm NATO cartridges, huh?

...Who is this person... Skilled...

If they came to take back the brats, use 'em as hostages!

Got it!

...Fucker!!

LIKE I'D EVER LET YOU HAVE YOUR WAY IN MY HOME LAND..!!

I thank you for the support.

Just... Just when did..?!

Woah-

Familiar face, am I? So it was Trump's boxer, huh?

Jesus?!

...It's Wau...

Whaaat..? I'm just accepting my invitation.

...Why are you here?!

They're the TPC's child-snatching force.

And this guy's the guy who's just helping out along the way.
